AI: REVOLUTIONISING AND TRANSFORMING COMMUNITY CARE NATIONAL CONFERENCE

ROOM THREE SIXTY
QUEENSLAND UNIVERSITY OF TECHNOLOGY, BRISBANE, QLD
MONDAY 4 NOVEMBER 2024

AI: Revolutionising and Transforming Community Care

AI: Revolutionising and Transforming Community Care is being hosted by Community Care Smart Assistive Technology Collaborative (CCSATC) in conjunction with Global Community Resourcing (GCR).

CCSATC is an online community of practice with a membership of over 2,000 community care providers who share community care practices and experiences incorporating Smart Assistive Technology in service provision, at a local, state, national and international level. This allows providers to collaborate, learn and share resources and expertise.

The purpose of the CCSATC is to promote use, raise awareness, encourage collaboration and co-design, gain understanding of and identify barriers to the uptake of Innovation and Technology in service provision and service delivery.

Key features include resources, videos, live webinars, polls, blogs, forums, useful links, tips, news and opportunities to share and link with local and international experts, service providers, carers and likeminded individuals.

GCR facilitates CCSATC, and is a multi-award-winning Australian organisation with extensive networks nationally and internationally that focuses on primary health services that are innovative, customer-focused, and create connections both Australia-wide and globally. For more than ten years we have been consistent in our demonstration of expertise across various community care settings, including the primary health care, disability and aged care sectors.

GCR primarily focuses on business transformation, innovation and incorporation of leading-edge approaches and technologies in community care service provision across the full spectrum of operations.

This National Conference will be a landmark event for pioneers in community-based care to delve into the transformative potential of AI. It is aimed at showcasing accessibility to community-based health, support, services, and care, specifically in the health, disability, palliative, mental health, aged, and community care sectors.

This national event will be held on Monday 4 November 2024.

The Community Care Smart Assistive Technology Collaborative (CCSATC) and Global Community Resourcing (GCR) invite you to join us at the upcoming AI: Revolutionising and Transforming Community Care National Conference, where your brand can shine among a diverse audience of Community Care Providers, Government & Government Agencies, Tech Vendors, Healthcare Professionals, Data Scientists, Public Health Officials, Healthcare Administrators, Software Developers, Researchers, Policy Makers, Tech Consultants, Entrepreneurs & anyone else interested in the developments in this ever-changing landscape.

Present your solutions: Showcase your products and services at transformative force within the industry by exhibiting at the AI: Revolutionising and Transforming Community Care National Conference. It's the ideal platform to demonstrate the role your innovations have in shaping the future of care.

Strategic networking: Engage with a proactive and influential audience, including decision-makers, entrepreneurs, researchers, and experts in care and technology. Forge lasting partnerships and cultivate business alliances.

Leadership in ideas: As a sponsor, demonstrate and build your organisation's reputation in thought leadership.
